Dear Dr. Reinald Adrian Pugoy,

I am writing this letter to formally express my deep interest in the OJT position in the Department of ICT Development Office (ICTDO) of the UP Open University (UPOU). I am a Computer Engineer undergraduate student who is highly motivated, detail-oriented, and has practical experience as a UI/UX Designer and Frontend Developer. I believe my experiences and passion for building meaningful digital experiences align with the expectations of this opportunity.

From my project experiences, I have honed my abilities in designing and prototyping user-friendly interfaces. As a UI/UX Designer and Frontend Developer for "Whaloo" (Flutter), I designed a mobile Student productivity app with a specific emphasis on responsive design while building widgets for the app to further simplify the development process. My work on "Tek-Trails" (Unity) highlights my skills as a UI/UX Designer, as well as a Game Designer and Frontend Developer; there I designed game UI layouts for various games, interactive elements like game UI buttons, and even mini-games. My role in "Hiraeth for Bravery" (Unity) as Game Designer & Developer showcased my skills in implementing core gameplay and original character design.

I am skillful in use of design tools like Figma and Adobe Illustrator, and have some fundamental skills with HTML, CSS, Dart, Flutter, and Unity. I like to emphasize simplicity and usability when designing creative digital experiences that are functional and visually appealing. I am a good communicator and collaborator, and love opportunities to learn and develop real life experiences through projects.

I expect that the experiences and knowledge that I hope to gain as an intern in your office will be a benefit to me in my future practice of the Engineering profession. I will look forward to opportunities to learn and hope to see my skills come to life in practice.

Sincerely,

Marjorie P. Matilos
